Breakout Session I
10:00 am - 10:50 am

Room 316BC: Code: The New Literacy

- * Shane Asselstine, Momilani Elementary School

Computer science and computational thinking skills are in high demand. Of all new jobs in STEM, 71% of them are in computing, but only 25% of schools are teaching computer science! Come and learn how Code Studio can help you prepare students for the future. Hands on session experiencing digital puzzles, unplugged activities, and play with programmable droids, and more.

Room 327: A Framework for Engaging Families in Afterschool Programs

- * Christina Shoemaker Simmons, Shoemaker Consulting
- * Innocenta Sound-Kikku, KKV & Pacific Voices Oceania
- * Joanne Loek, Legal Aid Society

This session will introduce you to the nationally recognized Dual Capacity-Building Framework for Family School Partnerships. Learn how this framework has been implemented with much success in one of our own communities in an afterschool program setting.

Room 328: Five Big Ideas in Beginning Reading: Fun
Strategies and Activities for K-3 Students

- * Gloria Kishi, Hawaii Department of Education

This presentation will focus on the critical K-3 reading skills necessary to develop fluent readers and practical, fun activities and strategies to reinforce these skills. Participants in the workshop will have opportunities to practice these activities and strategies.

Breakout Session II

11:00 am - 11:50 am

Room 316BC: Ceeds of Peace - Making peacebuilding connections with keiki and their caregivers

- * Lisa Taylor, Ceeds of Peace
- * Kerrie Urosevich, Ceeds of Peace

Ceeds of Peace is a 360° approach to raising peacebuilding leaders. This session will touch upon the necessity of those working directly with our keiki and their 'ohana, to model and teach life skills of courage, compassion, conflict resolution, and others, to both children and adults. Learn strategies to implement in your afterschool program setting.

Room 327: H·E·A·R - Helping Everyone Achieve Respect

- * Lieutenant Colonel Pamela Ellison, Hawaii Army National Guard

H·E·A·R is a high quality anti-bullying strategy that has been effective in reducing bullying and in promoting safe places for children and youth. This is an informative presentation with helpful ways to build a respectful community of participants and staff.

Room 328: Malama Honua: Defending Oahu from the Little Fire Ant, Hawaii's No. 1 Invasive Species

- * Chris Frohlich, Outreach and Education Representative with the Oahu Invasive Species Committee, Jacqueline Camit, Saint Mark Lutheran School, Jennifer Kuwahara, Mililani Middle School, Emmalani Makepa-Foley, Windward Community College, Pauline W. U. Chinn, College of Education, University of Hawaii

This session presents an easy, very timely citizen science lesson for students in 3rd grade and up. Jaqueline Camit, Jennifer Kuwahara, and Chris Frolich share their work, Emmalani Makepa-Foley discusses the role of Hawaiian language newspapers, and Jennifer notes ways the lesson reflects Mālama Honua and Na Hopena Ao. As Hōkūle'a travels around the world, she is cleaned and procedures are followed to prevent the introduction of invasive species. Not all travelers are so careful. The first ants arrived shortly after Captain Cook and stories about ants appeared a few decades later in Hawaiian language newspapers. First identified in Hawai'i in 1999, the Little Fire Ant (LFA), originally from Central and South America drives people off the land in some areas of Tahiti. It poses serious economic and ecological threats in Hawai'i and is considered our No. 1 invasive species.

Breakout Session III

2:00 pm - 2:50 pm

Room 316BC: Nā Hopena A'o (HĀ): A Framework of Outcomes for the Hawaii Department of Education

- * Jessica Worchel, Hawaii Department of Education

HĀ is a framework of outcomes to be strengthened in every student over the course of their K-12 learning journey. HĀ is designed to transform education in Hawaii through a holistic learning process with universal appeal and application to guide learners and leaders in the entire school community and to reflect Hawaiian values, language, culture and history.

Room 327: Design Thinking

- * Keith Matsumoto, Design Thinking Hawaii

Design Thinking is a human-centered process for innovation. Design thinking comprises a set of methods and strategies for interviewing and observing users, synthesizing insights, building prototypes, and testing and iterating on solutions. Learn how you can positively impact your organization's programs and services by transforming your staff and program participants into analytical, creative, and multifaceted problem solvers.

Room 328: Ceeds of Peace - How to put peace into action with your staff and work colleagues

- * Lisa Taylor, Ceeds of Peace
- * Maya Soetoro-Ng, Ceeds of Peace

This session will touch upon the Ceeds of Peace action planning process in which barriers to peace can be addressed and resolved, and how the process can be shared with others at the management level. Specific peacebuilding tools that can be used immediately will be shared.
